DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Claims

Claims 18-29 have been added. Claims 5-13 and 15-29 are pending and have been considered in this Office Action.

Rejections Withdrawn

The rejection of Claims 5, 10, 11, and 16 under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as anticipated by Borron et al. is withdrawn in light of the amendment adding that the claimed composition is "in powder form". The composition disclosed in Borron et al. is not in powder form.

The rejection of Claims 6-9, 13, 15, 16, and 17 under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph for lack of enablement has been withdrawn in light of the amendment deleting "preventing".

New Rejection Necessitated by Amendment

The examiner notes that the following rejection has been added due to the amendment adding that the claimed composition are in powder form.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 5, 10, 11, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Borron et al. (Am. J. Physiol. 275 (Lung Cell. Mol. Physiol. 19): L679-L686) in view of Nicholson (Dev. Biol. Stand. (1976) 36: 69-75).

As stated in the previous Office Actions, Borron et al. teach a composition comprising a purified recombinant SP-A that is lipid-free and contained in buffer (considered a carrier) at neutral pH (p. L680, Col. 2, last two paragraphs; indicates that recombinant SP-A was dialyzed against Tris buffer at pH 7.4). Also, as stated in the previous Office Action, the claims are drawn to a product with an intended use. However, without evidence that the intended use changes the product, the intended use is not considered because it is the product being claimed and not the method of using it. The recombinant SP-A in the composition of Borron et al. appears to be indistinguishable from the recombinant SP-A obtainable by expression of a genomic sequence or by expression of a cDNA.

Art Unit: 1656

Borron et al. do not teach that the SP-A composition is in powder form.

Nicholson teaches that freeze-drying (lyophilizing) enhances the stability and shelf life of protein products (see first line of abstract, paragraph bridging pp. 69-70 and 2nd paragraph p. 70). The lyophilization process results in a powder form of a protein.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to lyophilize the SP-A solution of Borron et al. and create a composition in powder form, for increased stability during storage. Borron et al. indicates that the final preparation was stored (see p. L680, Col. 2, last sentence of "Recombinant SP-A"). One of ordinary skill in the art, with knowledge of both references, would have been motivated to lyophilize the Borron et al. composition since Nicholson teaches that lyophilization will increase protein stability during the storage time.

Claim Objections

Claims 6-9, 12-13, 15, and 17 are objected to for depending from a rejected claim but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim.

Conclusions

Claims 5, 10, 11, and 16 are rejected. Claims 6-9, 12-13, 15, and 17 are objected to. Claims 18-29 are free of the prior art.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

Art Unit: 1656

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
